Looking Back. Moving Forward.

Indiana Campus Compact reviews, revisits, and reflects on 20 years of service

Twenty years ago, two groups began talking about connections. A group of college students discussed the connection between their academic life and their volunteer work. At the same time another group was forming. Six university and college presidents came together to talk about what one founding board member, University of Notre Dame President Edward A. Malloy, called "a collective sense that higher education needed to focus more directly on making a difference in our communities and neighborhoods." The two groups connected with each other and pooled their ideas, passion, and commitment to create Indiana Campus Compact in 1993.

1993 — Indiana Campus Compact (ICC) forms

1995 — ICC starts the Faculty Fellows Program, Scholarship of Engagement Grants, and Student Community Service Mini-Grants

1996 — ICC establishes the Student Community Commitment Award named after founding president Richard J. Wood of Earlham College

ICC Begins 16 year partnership with AmeriCorps

1999 — ICC begins partnership with Lilly Endowment Inc.

2000 — ICC establishes a faculty award for the Outstanding Contribution to the Scholarship of Engagement named in memory of ICC program director Brian Douglas Hiltunen

2002 — Because of ICC's leadership, the Indiana General Assembly passes a resolution encouraging the institutionalization of service learning in higher education

2005 — ICC hosts an Accreditation Conference focused on The North Central Association of The Higher Learning Commission's Criterion 5

2007 — ICC begins its "Building a Service Engagement Infrastructure" grant for members to establish Centers for Service Engagement as partnerships between Academic and Student Affairs

2009 — ICC introduces the institutional planning rubric "Institutionalization of Service Engagement in Higher Education" for member campuses

2010 — ICC hosts the inaugural Service Engagement Summit for administrators, faculty, staff, and students

2012 — ICC launches the Student Success Mentor Program focusing on retention and success

2013 — Indiana Campus Compact invites you to be part of the rest of our timeline. Imagine your role in the next 20 years.